National Population and Housing Census 2011, a historical and mega statistical operation has been successfully accomplished and has provided numerous invaluable socio-economic facts about Nepalese population.

Nepal is passing through the process of social, economic and political change. At this juncture information of various dimension are required to find solutions of the existing problems properly by the State. The results of the census, made available at the present state of the nation, would serve as a new benchmark. The vast information contained in the census result should be used to formulate plan and policies to address the grievances of various segments of the communities and geographical areas so as to transform Nepal into a modern, just and prosperous nation.

The Central Bureau of Statistics deserves special appreciation upon accomplishment of a huge task. On this occasion, I would like to thank all respondents, field staff, CBS team and international agencies for their sincere cooperation and dedication to successfully complete the mission.

Acknowledgement

National Population and Housing Census 2011 (NPHC2011) marks hundred years in the history of population census in Nepal. Nepal has been conducting population censuses almost decennially and the census 2011 is the eleventh one. It is a great pleasure for the government of Nepal to successfully conduct the census amid political transition. The census 2011 has been historical event in many ways. It has successfully applied an ambitious questionnaire through which numerous demographic, social and economic information have been collected. Census workforce has been ever more inclusive with more than forty percent female interviewers, caste/ethnicities and backward classes being participated in the census process. Most financial resources and expertise used for the census were national. Nevertheless, important catalytic inputs were provided by UNFPA, UNWOMEN, UNDP, DANIDA, US Census Bureau etc. The census 2011 has once again proved that Nepal has capacity to undertake such a huge statistical operation with quality. The professional competency of the staff of the CBS has been remarkable. On this occasion, I would like to congratulate Central Bureau of Statistics and the CBS team led by Mr. Uttam Narayan Malla, Director General of the Bureau.

On behalf of the Secretariat, I would like to thank the Steering Committee of the National Population and Housing census 2011 headed by Honorable Vice-Chair of the National Planning commission. Also, thanks are due to the Members of various technical committees, working groups and consultants.
